War Tax Law

The new war tax law went into effect at midnight Monday night and from that time until the 31 day of December, 1916, almost every person will contribute his or her share toward making up a revenue to the government estimated to amount to more than $100,000,000 annually.
Deputy collector, M. V. Leguillon has been busy making collections and supplying the demand for stamps.
Very few persons have any idea of the extent of the war tax and how it will affect them. For instance, on every seat sold in a palace or parlor car, and every berth sold in a sleeping car, one cent must be paid by the company selling them.
Any one filing a deed on property valued at between $100 and $500 will have to have a 50-cent war stamp attached, and an additional 50 cents for each additional $500 or a fraction thereof represented in the transfer. But the government shows its feeling for the fellow in debt and fails to fix any tax on mortgages. A tax of 25 cents must be paid on powers of attorney.

Every telegram or telephone conversation costing more than 15 cents requires a one-cent war tax stamp. There is no tax placed on checks or drafts, but on notes or renewal of notes a two-cent tax is required on each note of less than $100 and two cents for each additional $100 or fraction thereof. A half-cent tax is collected on each insurance policy.

A ten cent tax is required on each power of attorney or proxy vote in any stock. A similar tax is placed on any certificate required by law. The government places a 25-cent tax on all protested notes and bank checks, which is in addition to the regular protesting fee of $1.50.

The war tax stamps run in value from one-eighth of a cent to $100. There are three classes of stamps, the wine and cordials, documentary and proprietary and can be purchased at the office of the revenue collector. Later on it is expected that all of these stamps will be for sale at the postoffice in each town and city, but these arrangements have not as yet been made.

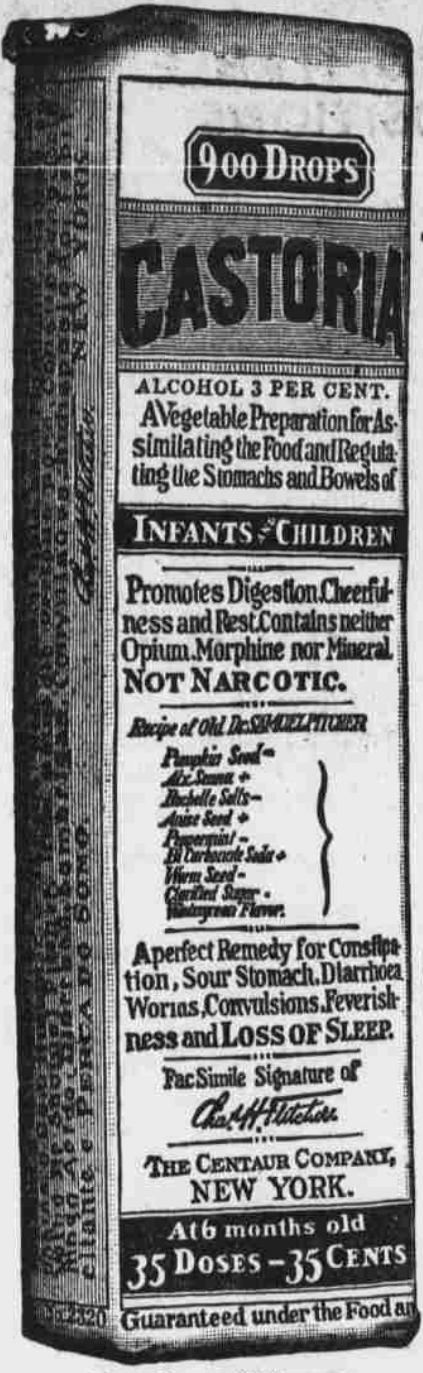

It really requires a marvelous amount of tact to appear thankful at Christmas for something you didn't want.

After a fierce ten days' struggle by both wets and dry, Findlay voted dry by a majority of 363 Tuesday. Both wet and dry forces have centered their efforts of the state upon Findlay, as it is the first municipality to vote on this issue since the passage of the home rule amendment.
